TOWN NEWS

Stacy Road Update

The current phase of the Stacy Road improvements on the north side is near completion. In mid to late June, the traffic switchover to the north side of the road will occur. Traffic will become two-way on the new northern concrete lanes for the time being.

The next phase will be excavation of the middle and south side of the road as well as the preparation for the two lanes on the south side. This phase will occur over several months, much like the northern half. Road message boards will be posted to notify drivers of the upcoming switch. As always, drive slowly and obey all construction warning and speed signs.

Technology Committee Survey

The Town's Technology Advisory Committee is excited to announce their 2017 Technology Survey. The Committee would love for as many Fairview residents as possible to participate. The short survey is just 17 questions; the survey should not take longer than 5 to 10 minutes. Your answers will help the Fairview Technology Advisory Committee gain insight into the growth and breadth of technology as well as future services that the Town, as well as service providers such as Grande Communications, AT&T, Verizon and more, can provide to benefit all of our residents. Thank you in advance for your participation!

The online survey can be accessed at surveymonkey.com/r/fv-survey

Actors of Fairview Youth Theatre

In this new feature section of the Fairview Town News, we will highlight the children participating in the Fairview Youth Theatre program and they will tell us in their own words why they love theatre.

Ruby Allen is 12 years old and in sixth grade at Faubion Middle School, she has been in more than 20 shows over the past five years.

“When I was younger I had trouble reading and theatre has really helped me overcome that. Theatre gives me a lot of confidence and when I am not doing a show I feel empty. Theatre is something that has always been with me since I was in first grade. I had only ever done musicals and had no interest in a straight play; I am so glad I tried something different by joining The Complete Works of Shakespeare Abridged! It was a lot of fun and I learned a lot too! Everyone is always together and we've become a close cast,” said Allen.

Fairview Youth Theatre Summer Camps

Looking to get the kids out of the house and beat the heat this summer? Fairview Youth Theatre, located in Fairview Town Center at 302 Town Place, is the newest location in the North Texas Performing Arts (NTPA) theatre family. Fairview Youth Theatre joins Plano Children's Theatre as the second NTPA theatre to have its own physical location managed by NTPA.

FYT features Art and Drama Camps for students' ages 5 to 9, Production Camps for ages 7 to 12 and Tech Camps for ages 10 and up, so there is a spot for every child, no matter their interest. The full and half day camps are taught by professional directors, actors and singers who have worked from Broadway to Hollywood. Students will participate in activities that include improv, poetry, singing and puppetry, just to name a few. Plus, each camp will present a production at the end of the week.

Finally, if you are looking for something fun and affordable to do with your family, check out the amazingly talented kids of FYT in one of their productions! Shrek the Musical, Jr. will show from June 9 to 18 and Sleeping Beauty Kids will show from June 22 to 25. Sign up for summer camps or purchase show tickets at FairviewYouthTheatre.org. FYT is also offering a 30 percent discount on summer camps for any students new to the North Texas Performing Arts group.

The Fairview Art Show

The Fairview Public Art Committee hosted the Town of Fairview Art Show to great success from April 21 to 23, 2017. The second Town show drew more than 150 pieces of original artwork and photography from more than 70 different entrants from Pre-K to Adult.

All award winners except for the People's Choice Award and the Town Choice Awards, were selected by featured juror, Fort Worth artist, Gary Joe Uribe. Uribe earned a Master of Fine Art Degree from the University of Texas at Arlington and a Bachelor of Fine Art with specialization in Printmaking, Drawing and Painting from the University of North Texas; his primary medium is drawing. Uribe is the recipient of numerous art awards including being a finalist for the prestigious Hunting Art Prize in Houston, Texas in 2016. Uribe has exhibited his art locally, domestically and internationally as well as being an adjunct professor at UTA.

Amongst the numerous pieces available to him, Uribe selected Lady of the Fall by Jin Lee as the Grand Prize Winner of $500. Three's a Crowd by Sheila Lonian was in First Place for Visual Arts with a prize of $250, Beginnings by former Lovejoy ISD student, Summer Peterson came in Second Place with a prize of $150 and a 2016 Fairview Art Show prizewinner, Pamela Van Laanen, came in Third Place with Mission Accomplished for a prize of $100.

New this year was the addition of separate photography divisions for adults and students alike. Three Fairview residents managed to garner award-winning selection by Uribe in the Adult Photography division with Stu Mair coming in First Place with Fish? for a prize of $250; Charlie Henkle in Second Place for $150 with Chilean Woman and Gretchen Day in Third Place for $100 with Hillside Sunset.

The Fairview Public Art Committee additionally selected several Town Choice Award winners to split a cash prize of $400 amongst the four works of art chosen. This year's Town Choice selections were Blind Contours by former Lovejoy student, Ben Wortham; both Phases and Koy by another 2016 Fairview Art Show prizewinner, Sam Lawrence; and Pot au Fleur by Julie Mah-Pon. All of the cash prize recipients are currently on display in Fairview Town Hall for a period of one year.

This year, the Committee created even more Student Divisions with Early Elementary, Intermediate, Middle, High and the Photography Divisions available to entrants. In the High Division, students in grades 9 through 12 competed and Anukriti Singh won a First Place medal with Gaze, Jack Condit was in Second Place with Baseball and Stephanos Deaton came in Third Place with Deadly Temptation.

In the Middle Division, students in grades 6 through 8 competed with Kaya Czyz in both First and Third Places with The Woman and Combustibility, respectively. Second Place in the Middle Division went to Jenna Garcia with The Hummingbird.

The Intermediate Division, for students in grades 3 to 5, saw more than 30 entries with First Place going to Golden Forest by Zachary Zou, Second Place to Juby by Amy Wang, Third Place to Water Lilies by Yolanda Pan and Honorable Mentions to Girl and Geese by Tiffany Zhang as well as Galaxy by Bayleigh Martinez.

Students from Pre-K up to grade 2 competed in the Early Elementary Division with Lillian Verret earning a First Place medal for Dos and her sister Madeline Verret in Second Place with Quatro. Third Place went to The Eevee by Catherine Pruitt and Honorable Mentions were awarded to Luke Glotzbach for Black on Rainbow Tree as well as Ameya Indaram for Love.

Finally, the Student Photography Division allowed all students under the age of 18 to enter their favorite photos. Jack Czyz, sibling of Visual Arts Middle Division winner, Kaya Czyz, coincidentally also won both First and Third Place medals for Cat Combo and Untitled, respectively. In Second Place was Stephanos Deaton winning again with Tree of Avalon.

The three-day event in the Fairview Town Center shopping center saw several hundred visitors culminating on Sunday afternoon with the show's awards reception, featuring music from acoustic guitarist and Fairview resident, Shane Frame. Frame has established The Guitar Sanctuary and Performance Academy in McKinney, which he calls, "the world's coolest boutique guitar shop and music school." At the reception, Mayor Culbertson gave certificates to every child who entered as well as handing out medals and posing for photos with the Art Show winners.

The Fairview Public Art Committee and Town Staff would like to thank all who entered, attended and volunteered for the event. Special thanks go to show judge Gary Joe Uribe, visit his website at gjuart.com and musician Shane Frame, visit his website at shaneframe.com. The Town would also like to thank Lincoln Property Company for continuing to allow the Town to use a space in their mall for no charge.

The Public Art Committee is an all-volunteer board comprised of Joyce Bryan, Amy Adler, Elizabeth Glasco, Beth McInerney and Committee Chair, Karen Karnuta. Their Town Staff Liaison is Town Secretary and PR Coordinator, Liz Cappon.
